

MICROBLADING, COMBINATION AND POWDER BROWS

Brows at their brilliant best

I HOPE YOU LOVE YOUR NEW BROWS!

Please note that it is your responsibility to follow the aftercare instructions. Failure to follow the advice will result in less than desired results.

For 2 weeks following your procedure you MUST NOT:

- ✦ Get your eyebrows wet *
- ✦ Cleanse, wash or use soap on your eyebrows.
- ✦ Use sun beds, saunas, attend yoga, gyms, hot steaming baths, showers or anything that will cause sweating.
- ✦ Use make up on the eyebrows.
- ✦ Touch your brows or pick any flaking skin or scabs.
- ✦ Use creams or retinol based products.

*Should you happen to get your eyebrows wet, then pat them gently with a dry cotton pad or tissue. DO NOT RUB!

TIP: Once your brows are healed, it is highly recommended that you use a factor 50 sun block on them to help with longevity and keep your brows looking at their brilliant best!

After your treatment it is perfectly normal to expect some or all of the following symptoms:

Flaking, tenderness, dryness, swelling, redness and itching.

Microblading is a two-stage treatment with lots of ups and downs. Your eyebrows will get a lot darker the first few days after your treatment.

Your brows may then go patchy and uneven—often becoming very light! The colour will begin to re-surface in approximately 3–4 weeks time.

Don't worry. This is all completely normal and why your top-up is required.

Trust in the process!
